

Janice N. Harrington

Poet Description:

Janice N. Harrington was born in Vernon, Alabama, and grew up there and in Lincoln, Nebraska. She is a poet, a children's book author, and a professional storyteller. A former librarian, she now teaches creative writing at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The two poems here are reprinted from her book Even the Hollow My Body Made Is Gone (2007).

Race/Ethnicity:

African [1]

Picture:

Gender:

Female [2]

Sexuality:

Straight [3]

First Name:

Janice N.

Last Name:

Harrington

Birth & Death Dates:

Sunday, January 1, 1956

School of Poetry:

Other [4]

Birth Place:

Vernon , Alabama

United States

See map: Google Maps [5]

Alabama US

Group visibility:

Public - accessible to all site users

Links

[1] <http://modernamericanpoetry.org/category/race-ethnicity/african>

[2] <http://modernamericanpoetry.org/category/gender/female>

[3] <http://modernamericanpoetry.org/category/sexuality/straight>

[4] <http://modernamericanpoetry.org/school-poetry/other>

[5] <http://maps.google.com?q=46.880607+-87.363281+%28%2C+Vernon%2C+AL%2C+%2C+us%29>